Feedback & Complaints Management

POLICY AND PROCEDURE

All employees are responsible for knowing and following this procedure.

Subee has a policy of maintaining clear communication channels for feedback of any nature. Clients, potential clients, staff, service providers and any community stakeholders can provide feedback via the Subee website, the Client Feedback form, staff portal, Subee Facebook page, verbally or by email. Feedback may also be reported verbally by staff as a result of direct client contact.

Feedback may be anonymous in nature, relate to a specific incident or client, or be generic. It may also result from client surveys initiated at least annually. Feedback does not automatically constitute the raising of an incident record.

All feedback is to be treated confidentially, within and outside of the business. Information is shared internally strictly on a need-to-know basis that supports resolution and continuous improvement. All feedback is acted upon without prejudice and in good faith, regardless of the nature of the feedback and in line with policies around mandatory reporting.

In all instances feedback is assumed to be a positive consequence of service delivery in that it supports continuous improvement of processes.
